Mr. Panagiotis Theoulakis

MD, FEBO, CCST
Ophthalmic Surgeon

Mr. Theoulakis is an experienced Ophthalmic Surgeon who has been working as a Locum Consultant with the NHS in London. He has been running theatre lists at London hospitals and specialises in complex cases. He is registered with the General Medical Council (GMC) and is on the specialist register as an Ophthalmologist.

Mr. Theoulakis has undergone specialist training in refractive surgery and is committed to delivering excellent patient care. Mr. Theoulakis is actively involved in the surgical teaching and supervision of trainee ophthalmic surgeons. He is also fluent in three languages and has worked in the Ophthalmology departments of hospitals around the world in order to gain experience and research in ophthalmic procedures. He has performed more than 6000 ophthalmic procedures.

Mr. Theoulakis gained his first class medical degree at the National University of Athens in 2002, he also trained in Switzerland and Northern Ireland in order to gain further ophthalmic qualifications. He holds a Postgraduate Diploma in Cataract and Refractive Surgery from the University of Ulster in addition to a MD thesis from the University of Bern. He regularly provides clinical teaching to medical students and presents regularly to specialist registrars and medical students. He is also an active fellow of the European Board of Ophthalmology (EBO) and a member of the American Academy of Ophthalmology (AAO), European Society for Cataract and Refractive Surgery (ESCRS), American Society of Cataract and Refractive Surgeons (ASCRS), Medical Contact Lens and Ocular Surface Association (MCLOSA), and British Society for Refractive Surgery (BSRS). Twice every year, Mr. Theoulakis attends International Medical Advisory Board (IMAB) conferences and is annually assessed by this board. The panel consists of several of the world's most eminent Refractive Surgeons including Mr. Steve Schallhorn, former Head of Ophthalmology for the US Navy, and Professor Jan Venter, a world leading Ophthalmic Surgeon.

Mr. Theoulakis is actively involved in ongoing research and has had his work presented internationally and published in many accredited peer-reviewed journals. He enjoys teaching as well as being involved in the examining of medical students. He prides himself on keeping abreast of all developments in the fast paced field of refractive surgery.
